

Maurizio Scarpa is Director of the Lysosomal Unit in the Department of Paediatrics at the University of Padova, Italy, and distinguished for his research in paediatric neurodegenerative disease. He is the Delegate for International Affairs of the Dean of the Medical Faculty in Padova, and leads the local organisation of AMSE 2012.